NEWBERRY FATE IN HANDS OF TWO SENATORS

France and Weller, of Maryland Hold Balance of Power

SIX VOTES UNCERTAIN

Jones of Washington and Norris of Nebraska Line up With Opponents Of Michigan Senator

Washington, Jan. 11.—Shifts of belated alignments in the Senate's intense controversy over the seating of Senator Truman H. Newberry, of Michigan, produced a situation tonight wherein the two wavering Maryland Senators and their votes may determine whether Mr. Newberry retains his seat or loses it.

A day of feverish conferences and stirring debate with the development that two of the "doubtful" Senators had gone to the opposition of Newberry so tightened the lines that two or three votes will determine the fate of the Michigan Senator. Senators Weeler and France, regarded by the Newberry managers as leaning toward their cause, while the Marylanders themselves decline to state for publication their definite position, were left almost, if not quite, in a position of control tonight.

Senator Weller remained silent today regarding his vote and made the following explanation:

I do not care to make any statement in advance, not at least until the case is closed and all the arguments finished. Suppose I had announced how I would vote when I was being asked last week and before Senator Newberry took the floor in his own defense. No, wait until all the evidence is in.

Senator France would not commit himself any further than he did last night when he authorized the statement that "I will not say definitely how I shall vote, but it is probable I will vote to keep Newberry in the Senate."

The best information obtainable is that there remain not less than a half dozen "doubtful" Senators, including Weller and France. A switch in sentiment tomorrow on the part of two or three of them—no matter which of the two courses they may have in mind tonight—is all-important.

Senators Jones, of Washington, and Capper, of Kansas, Republicans, made up their minds today to vote against Senator Newberry and were removed from the doubtful list. Senator Jones made the concluding speech of today's long and spirited debate and explained his position. Simultaneously Senator Lenroot, progressive Republican, returned from Wisconsin and was listed as about to enter the Newberry camp, while Senator McNary, of Washington, was reported as finally ready to cast his ballot for Newberry. No agreement could be reached for final action today, but it seems probable tomorrow.

The generally accepted doubtful list tonight follows:

Willis, of Ohio, who discussed the Newberry case with President Harding today, but refused either to talk about the White House conference or commit himself on his vote; Weller and France of Maryland; Southerland, of West Virginia; Pepper, the new Senator from Pennsylvania, and Johnson of California, who is absent.

Parker, of New York, will deliver the opening address in a notable series of lectures which will be given at the College of William and Mary during this winter and the coming spring, under the auspices of the Marshall-Wythe School of Government and Citizenship, it was announced here today.

WASHINGTON DAY BY DAY

(From our Special Correspondent.)

Washington Jan. 12.—Postmaster General Will H. Hays was appealed to by Franklin P. Rupp, of Baltimore, to find his brother, Samuel, from whom he became separated in 1861.

"Back in the year 1861 when the Civil War broke out," said the letter to the Postmaster General, "we were large boys at that time and we got separated apart. My brother (Samuel Rupp) went to Frederick county to live with Kefavour family in the year '61 or '62. In all these years I have not seen him nor heard from him. I am now 72 years old his brother, Franklin P. Rupp, and if Samuel is living is 70 years old. Dear Sir, if you can help me to find him if he is living, I pray for him every day that we meet again on earth."

According to reports received by the various Government agencies, rents soon will be near normal. Gradual reductions are being made in every section of the country, big reductions being noticeable in the large centers including New York, Boston, Chicago and Philadelphia. According to Government reports, the greatest building boom in history is expected to develop this spring. Contracts will be let for thousands of apartments and homes this winter it is predicted, and the sign, For Rent, familiar in pre-war days will be dug up by real estate dealers, dusted off and put into use again

Approximatelv $150 000,000 is being spent each month this winter on new buildings, of which nearly two thirds goes for residential structures, according to reports received by the Federal Reserve Board.

The rank and file of the Republican party is awaiting with some anxiety today for real, inside information as to what occurred at the home of Senator Medill McCormick, of Illinois, last night when he had as his guests the members of the Steering Committee of the Senate. So important was the gathering that Senator Henry Cabot Lodge of Massachusetts arranged to lay aside Conference work for the evening and participate. The object of the meeting was to discuss ways and means of retaining the party control of the House and Senate through next November's Congressional elections. Last week President Harding entertained a choice group of Republican leaders to discuss the general legislative condition in Congress.

It is no secret that the party organization is not in as good shape as it might be. What with taxes, no bonus, a touch of hard times here and there and general unrest, the Republicans have come to the conclusion that the time is ripe for putting a burr under the Elephant's tail. But just what is to be done is what is puzzling the rank and file. May be the real plan will creep out before the end of the week.

Why do the motion picture producers want Postmaster General Will Hays to leave the Cabinet and go to work for them? Why do they want him so badly that they are offering him a three year contract at $150,000 a year. Total, $450.000 for the term, or close on to half a million? The answer is that in so many state legislatures bills are pending for the censorship of the movies that the geniuses of the silent drama are shivring in their boots. Will Hays, as the result of his experience in politics, knows men in every state in the Union, men of real influence in politics. He will be able, therefore, to help the movie men out in heading off unnecessarily drastic censorship laws. The movie magnates are ready for censorship but they want it as uniform as possible. Hence Will Hays.

Here is the latest "dope" on the coming Democratic nomination in the Tenth Virginia Congressional District of a successor to the late Henry D. Flood. There are several candidates in the field and, as the time seems too short for a primary, a convention is more likely to be called If there is a primary the chances of Henry St. George Tucker would appear to be better than if the selection is left to a convention. The odds are that a convention will be called and that Mr. Tucker, who rarely lets a year go by without being a candidate for something, will not get the nomination. Apparently the state leaders have not picked a man and will leave the convention to handle a free for all fight.

WHITE WAY ON KING STREET DISCUSSED

Retail Merchants to Name Committee to Push Project

PROPOSED FERRY

Reference Library For School Assured—To Observe Thrift Week—Urge Exhibit at Pageant

The proposition to have a white way on King street was discussed last night by the retail merchants' bureau of the chamber of commerce and it was decided to name a special committee to act in conjunction with the committee appointed by the directors of the chamber of commerce to push the matter thereby securing the co-operation of all members of the chamber in order to have the project realized. The meeting was presided over by R. E. Knight president of the association. A report was submitted to the effect that considerable progress is being made toward collecting funds for a reference library for the Alexandria High School. About $100 is needed and most of the money already has been given by voluntary contributions. This committee is composed of Aubrey Shuman, Floyd Saunders and Jerome Kaufmann.

J. S. Oliver, of the State Travelers' Protective Association, appeared before the association and urged upon the necessity of their co-operation in securing a suitable exhibit for Alexandria at the Virginia Historical pageant which will be staged in Richmond in May.

Announcement was made that this bureau will co-operate with committees of the Retail Credit Men's Association, the Y. M. C. A., in the observance of Thrift Week, January 17-23.

Progress was reported on the Fox ferry proposition providing for the establishment of a ferry between Alexandria and the Maryland side and Capt. George H. Evans, business manager of the chamber of commerce, today is in Washington conferring with the Maryland authorities in reference to this project.

The Retail Credit Men's Association it was reported made great headway during the past month.

Complaint was made regarding some of the cars on the Washington-Virginia line not being properly heated and it was announced that this matter will be taken up at once with the railway officials.

IN CONGRESS YESTERDAY

SENATE

Enlivened debate on the resolution to unseat Senator Newberry, of Michigan, prevented a vote, and Republican efforts to set an hour for voting were frustrated by Democrats, indicating that the contest may continue until Friday. Charges by Senator Caraway, of Arkansas, that Senator Newberry's speech of defense delivered Monday was written by his Republican colleagues started a wrangle in which Senator Robinson, of Arkansas Spencer, of Missouri, and other rabid partisans participated. Senator Owen, of Oklahoma, introduced a resolution to unseat the Michigan senator on the ground that his election was corrupt. The Democratic resolution was discarded with a view to modification, but neither proposal was voted upon.

Senator Dial, of South Carolina, directed the attention of the Senate to the lack of heat and lighting in the public schools of the District of Columbia.

JAIL DELIVERY EARLY TODAY AT WARRENTON

Three Colored Men Arrested Here December 18th Escape

BREAK BAR OF CELL

Threaten to Kill Fellow Prisoner if He Gave Alarm—Reward of $50 Offered for Their Capture

Three colored prisoners giving the names of Leroy Green, Howard Mitchell and Thomas Williams, who were arrested in Alexandria December 18 last on suspicion of having broken into a number of stores in nearby counties, at 2:30 o'clock this morning broke jail at Warrenton, Va., and make good their escape. The Alexandria police have been asked to help locate the men, who formerly lived on South Peyton street, in this city.

The men had been confined in the jail at Warrenton since December 19. They were given a preliminary hearing but their cases had not yet been taken up by the grand jury. There were eight men all told in the little jail at Warrenton, including the three who escaped. All three were in one cell. One of the trio secured an iron bar used for the furnace and after considerable work they succeeded in wrenching a steel bar of the cell, which is about three quarters of an inch thick. Each then made his exit from the cell, although the jailor declares it was a mighty tight squeeze.

After being out of the cell they were in the corridor and they then broke the lock off the big wooden door.

A few minutes after the men escaped Jailor J. W. Shirley was notified of the delivery by a colored prisoner who occupied an adjoining cell. This prisoner was the only one who was aroused, and he would have made an outcry, but the men threatened to kill him if he gave an alarm he told the jailor. However he did notify the jailor a short time after the men escaped.

Sheriff Woolf stated today to a Gazette representative over the phone that the last seen of the three prisoners was at Calverton, Va., which is nine miles this side of Warrenton. The men were preparing to board a freight train and this train he stated was coming toward Alexandria. The apprehension of the men is expected. All three men were thinly clad according to the jailor. A reward of $50 has been offered for their apprehension.

At the house where the men were captured in this city the police recovered several hundred dollars worth of merchandise, including considerable clothing.

DIFFICULTIES IN NAVY PLAN DIMINISHING

U. S. Delegation Denies That Serious Differences Exist Among Powers

PLENARY SESSION

Probably Will Take up Ship Pact Without Waiting for Far East Settlement

Washington, Jan. 12.—Notwithstanding the spread during the day of rumors that putting the naval treaty into definite form is developing serious and even dangerous differences of opinion. leaders in the American delegation insisted last night that no important divergence of views has appeared and hope was held out that a plenary session still is possible this week.

Simultaneously, word was received that the Japanese and Chinese delegates, in their new parleys had reached provisional agreements for withdrawal of Japanese troops from Shantung, and had made progress on other minor matters. Also well supported reports were current that Mr. Hughes had made compromise proposals for settlement of the Shantung Railroad question, which had received serious attention in Washington and were being considered in Peking and Tokio.

With respect to the naval treaty, American spokesmen said that excellent progress was made, taking in to account the necessity of dealing with sections and clauses in two and sometimes three languages and the need of communicating with governments. The prediction was made that the problems of defining "Pacific regions," of determining what is Japan proper, and of treating the Aleutian Islands as part of the American mainland will be solved. These matters are up in connection with the Pacific fortifications agreement.

Moreover, it was said on behalf of the delegation that, contrary to information given last night in British quarters, the agreement on fortifications in the Pacific probably will be made a part of the naval treaty. And to that was added the information that it was expected that the naval treaty would be acted on in the plenary session without waiting for completion of the proposed Chinese or Asiatic agreement.

The statements from the American delegation ha dsome reassuring influences as against reports that the difficulties encountered in the session of the heads of the delegations from the naval powers, who are working on the naval treaty, were due to Japanese maneuvers designed to checkmate Mr. Hughes in any plans he may have made to put pressure on Japan in Far Eastern matters as soon as the naval questions were concluded.

Reports to this effect received credence in many quarters, and still are regarded with great interest.

The Japanese scheme, according to the reports, was to tie up the naval treaty in an argument over the exact provisions for maintenance of the status quo in Pacific fortifications. After yesterday's meetings of the heads of delegations information came to the effect that the Japanese wanted treated as part of Japan proper certain islands that have not been so regarded, and their position caused very general surprise. Of course if outlying islands were regarded as in Japan the status quo provision would not anply; Japan could add to her fortifications and naval bases, and the United States would have new potential dangers.

The American expressions of good cheer may mean that all of the reports are mere belated flurries of excitement or they may mean that the American delegates know that Japan really is planning to hold back until she knows she is not to be pressed too hard in the East, and have made up their minds not to press her too hard. if that will endanger the naval treaty. Again, it may be that the Eastern situation is developing in a way that leads the American delegation to believe that it will not be necessary to press Japan so hard as to cause her to use the naval treaty as a pawn.

Undoubtedly the American delegation believes that the Shantung issue can be settled without raising a howl from the Chinese. If so, the danger of explosion over Far Eastern questions in the Senate—reacting against the other treaties—will be appreciably reduced, if not removed. And the American delegation today evidences distinct hope that the way of success in the Shantung matter has been opened.

That hope causes no excitement. There have been too many such hopes since the Conference met. But it is a factor in determining the course of the delegation, in all probability.

The total number of routes is 43,752, covering 1,163,896 miles and requiring annual travel of carriers of 352 532 858 miles. The cost of the service is $85,462,000.

PRESIDENTIAL LEGISLATION

The Constitution of the United States provides for three branches of federal government, executive, legislative, and judicial. It would seem, however, that President Harding is confusing the duties of the executive and legislative branches, which is a dangerous innovation. According to the Congressional Record of last Friday, this same topic came up incidentally on the floor of the House. At a former session Congressman Moore, of the Eighth Virginia District, introduced a joint resolution, the first of its kind, creating a Joint Committee upon Reorganization of the Departments. This was a most important measure and unanimously passed both House and Senate. Congressman Moore was placed on the committee of the House along with other members of recognized ability, all of whom had attained a reputation as careful students of governmental affairs.

But President Harding saw fit to request, or demand, or order, as you choose, that he be permitted to name a representative upon that committee, and that his representative be paid out of the contingent funds of the House and Senate. The Democratic minority on the committee made grave opposition at the time, on the ground that it was an interference on the part of the Executive with the legislative branch of government. Furthermore, it was predicted at the time, that this presidential representative would subsequently become chairman of the committee. This was denied by the Republican majority—but nevertheless became an accomplished fact, later.

Now, mark you, this most important measure, unanimously passed by both House and Senate, interfered with by presidential pressure, has been inoperative ever since; an idle and fatuous memory so far as the committee work is concerned. Why? Because the presidential chairman has not seen fit to call a meeting since last June. The committee has done absolutely no work of the nature assigned to it, and the interloping chairman, a member of neither branch of Congress, a certain Mr. Brown, presumptively a citizen of the United States, is in all probability attending to his private duties, if he has any. But the Senate and House exchequers are charged with his salary and expenses.

Now the Washington Post comes out in an editorial undertaking to comment upon the work this committee is doing. This may be partisan publicity but it certainly is not journalism. The matter is being well ventilated in the House, and we hope will serve as a warning and precedent for the future.

HOUSES AND STREETS

We publish a letter from our esteemed fellow-townsman, Mr. Hugo Herfurth, Jr., calling attention to the very inadequate housing facilities in Alexandria, as well as the great need of street improvement. Mr. Herfurth is correct in his emphasis on the importance of these two items. We said recently that we proposed to take up the housing question at a later day. This is more a matter for private enterprise, but also comes within the scope of activities of the Chamber of Commerce. As to street improvements, in the list at the head of the editorial column daily will be found two items referring to this subject.

Mr. Herfurth speaks with moderation and authority when he says we need five hundred houses or apartments. Our respect for his opinion is such that we have concluded to add that item to our list of things needed for a Greater Alexandria.

Communications

Alexandria, Va.,
Jan. 11th., 1922
Editor of Alexandria Gazette,
City.

Dear Sir:

I read with the greatest of interest your article in the Gazette under the heading of "Greater Alexandria," with the proposed Ferry to Alexandria, Improved Highway to Fairfax, Great White Way on King Street, Belgian Blocks replaced Washington Highway by asphalt, North Alfred and Columbus Streets improved to Washington Boulevard, and etc., but in my mind you have neglected the two most essential things: first, the housing situation and second, street improvements.

I don't think the majority of our home people realize these conditions; I doubt if there is a modern house or apartment to be had in Alexandria today. We are today in need of five hundred houses or apartments, and as many more to take place of the inhabitable quarters that some of our people are compelled to live in.

Let us also improve streets, which will encourage building operations. In my mind every street in Alexandria should be paved and sewered, and then, I believe our people will build in our city instead of going into the suburbs.

With good streets and good houses, so we can have comfortable quarters for our home people and strangers, with such improvements and suggestions already stated in the Gazette by our citizens, we will do much for the growth of a bigger and Greater Alexandria.

Respectfully yours,
HUGO HERFURTH, Jr.

GET TOGETHER FOR OUR CITY

Mrs. Henderson Outlines Plans For Better Government of Alexandria

Each and every citizen should stand firmly by the principles embodied, work together for the betterment of our good, little historical town. Worked on a plan, which reading my article on Alexandria will explain. The principals carried out would, in a short time, show results, as it is worked in other cities and proven a success. There should be a Mayor's advisory board composed of the leading business men of Alexandria, including the most successful wholesale and retail merchants bankers, manufacturers, representatives of labor, the President and chairman of the Womans clubs and women voters and other representative men and women to serve as a board of directors for city, without compensation, the purpose of the board is to advise and aid the Mayor, in the same manner that a board of directors aid and advise the President of any large and successful corporation.

There should be more playgrounds distributed proportionately according to the population of children, in different parts of the city, this would keep children off the streets, away from danger which every child encounters every day, either by automobiles or cars by playing in the street, this would give them access to healthful out door exercise, save the mother a good deal of worry and anxiety knowing their children are protected and instructed by competent patient, kind instructors, who will study each and every childs disposition and bring out many things that have lain dormant waiting for just such a chance to bring the best out in every child.

The Chief of Police should have absolute control of the Police Department, without any interferences from the politicians or the public, thus he would be able to work better and not be handicapped when performing his duties.

We should have cheaper gas, other cities, with more expense attached in the making of gas are able to supply it much cheaper, there is no reason why we should have to pay such an exorbitant rate as compared with Washington, Baltimore and Philadelphia larger cities while Charlottesville and Fredericksburg numbering not as many have a less rate.

We have everything in our favor to make Alexandria good manufacturing town, we have a fine water front, our citizens are good business men, our banks can compete with any and are second to none, we have a fine hospital, managed by superior women, kind and thoughtful nurses always willing to relieve and aid the sufferers wants competent and efficient doctors, who have made fine records for themselves in the professional world, our lady voters are fine women, we have a good, jovial Mayor whose heart is as large as he is in every way he is trying to make Alexandria a model city. "In the newly elected Police Judge (Duvall), it is the hope of the people that he will be the same just and honorable official as Judge Snow, who plays no favorites, but deal justice to all alike giving to all a "Square Deal." Our lawyers are all men of sterling qualities and men who stand high in the community. What we want is for our little town to compete with other cities of its size or larger ones, we can, by the right standards and efficient service, all working together make Alexandria a city that any one can be proud to say he came from and be able to say to any one we are strictly up to date in every thing. There has been too much lack of interest that outsiders have called attention to its laxity of progression, we must wake up and be doing, so we can show we are keeping up with the times, that we come to the front and stand as high as any other city that numbers our population.

I noticed an article in the paper where some one criticised the public schools here saying, "That the boys that left Alexandria for the University of Virginia are not as far advanced as from other schools." Such is not the case, as some of our smartest business men here attended our school and owe all they have made of themselves to the schools of our city. Captain Sweeney can share a good deal of credit as he coached many a boy to make his way in the business world.

We have fine stores where you can get the nicest and daintiest things that one could wish, we can compete with any of the stores in Washington, the latest styles are always to be found in them and much cheaper, the salesladies are courteous, efficient and willing to help you select and make a choice of reasonable merchandise given the public by the merchants. The merchants make their stores attractive and make every effort to please their customers, the goods exhibited are of standard make, we should all spend our money in Alexandria in that way encourage the storekeeper and showing we co-operate with them in helping our own city, by keeping our trade here. We also have a good, old, reliable paper, The Alexandria Gazette, that always gives us the latest news, it never fails, not as large in size as some papers, but larged in news, it never fails, not as large in size as some papers, but larger in news, it read in many other cities eagerly by people that once lived in Alexandria for they are all anxious for the news of the happenings in their native city.

I hope my little article will not offend, I have the interest of Alexandria at heart and want to see it stand higher than other cities of its size and come to the front.

MOTHER! MOVE CHILD'S BOWELS WITH CALIFORNIA FIG SYRUP

Hurry Mother! Even a sick child loves the "fruity" taste of "California Fig Syrup" and it never fails to open the bowels. A teaspoonful today may prevent a sick child tomorrow. If constipated, bilious, feverish, fretful, has cold, colic, or if stomach is sour, tongue coated, breath bad, remember a good cleansing of the little bowels is often all that is necessary.

Ask your druggist for genuine "California Fig syrup" which has directions for babies and children of all ages printed on bottle. Mother! You must say "California" or you may get an imitation fig syrup.

Fire at Blackstone

$150,000 Fire Destroys Main Building at Blackstone Female Institute

Blackstone, Va., Jan. 11.—Fire, causing an estimated damage of $150,000, destroyed the main building of the Blackstone Female College early last night. The structure burned was a four-story brick one and had been used as the main building since the destruction of the original one by fire in May, 1920. The school may be forced to close its doors for the remainder of the term, according to a statement last night, made by Dr. H. Asbury Christian, president of the institution.

More than 200 girls were in the building when the fire was discovered about 6 o'clock. The fire alarm was sounded as they marched out as though in regular fire drill.

Fire apparatus was rushed to the scene, but by the time it arrived the building was a mass of flames. The firemen had great difficulty in checking the spread of the fire to other buildings, especially the new structure which was going up on the site of the main building destroyed in 1920. A shifting wind fanned the flames on all sides and added to the difficulty in curbing the fire.

When the firemen realized that it was impossible to save the building attacked by flames, they concentrated their efforts on the one under construction. The uncompleted building is located about eighty feet from the one which was demolished.

There was not the slightest evidence of panic among the girls as they marched from the burning building. They were just preparing to go to the dining-room for dinner when the fire was discovered.

After watching the building burn down, they found themselves homeless, and efforts were made to find places for the students to stay. Within fifteen minutes citizens had come forward and supplied the girls with places to stay.

The fire is believed to have been caused by a short circuit.

Dr. Christian highly commended the work of firemen and the assistance rendered by students of the Blackstone Military Academy. George P. Adams, secretary-treasurer of the institution, was in Richmond when notified of the fire. He left immediately for Blackstone.

FOR GREATER ALEXANDRIA

Interview With The Rev. Dr. E. B. Jackson of First Baptist Church

Dr. Jackson Says Alexandria's Location Gives it a Peculiar Advantage

Let our past help to secure for our future the things which will make it a bigger and a brighter and a greater Alexandria. This, in the sight of Rev. E. B. Jackson, D. D., pastor of the First Baptist Church, will help us toward the goal. In a statement for the Gazette he says—

"Certainly the location of Alexandria gives it pecular opportunity and prospects. Once these docks were lined with ocean-going vessels. Many improvements within a few years, are noted in its physical aspects. Marked improvements have come in the schools but no one thing could be more attractive than an adequate system. The Editor of the Gazette is to be congratulated on his fearless editorials which probe to the bottom of the situation. Our city is more to be congratulated upon such a leader with such a wide vision.

"Byron says, in one of his letters, that "the best of prophets of the future is the past." Alexandria's greatness is rooted in her past, and that past may be looked upon as a hopeful augury of the future. Alexandria has wrongfully been accused of making too much of her past and living too much in the past. But it seems more true to say that she has neglected much of her past that might have been an asset in the present. Much history of general interest was forged here and Alexandria has allowed herself to forget much that might make these bare facts a living present reality.

"This was an arena of heroic deeds when courageous, masterful men played the game for the recovery of a continent from tyranny. Those days that tried men's souls were days of lights and shadows. A divine providence seemed to throw a wall of protection about the old city when some of the world's mightiest men moved familiarly along her streets.

"Tennyson speaks somewhere of the "Eternal landscape of the past." A movement is on foot to mark the historic places in that landscape. A committee is now at work, from the Civic Bureau of the Chamber of Commerce and this past will be recovered. Governors and Premiers and Presidents will stop at these markers to do reverence to the deed enacted there. What city can point to th spot where the great pioneer of Democracy—George Mason probably wrote some of his immortal papers—a veritable treasure-house for those who shaped our government. Think of looking upon the spot which witnessed a vital phase in the struggle for religious liberty! Think of a spot which heard the marvelous eloquence of Patrick Henry in defense of a martyr to Religious Liberty! Think of a City that knew men of three generations of the Lee family ,which men all have written their names high on the pages of human history. Think of a place where George Washington twice received commission in the British Army, and in which he might have made his career, but for the pettiness of British officials. Think of places marked where Aaron Burr moved in social circles, and whose atmosphere of patriotism seemed not to inuence. Think of the great Benjamin Franklin here not searching the myteries of the heavens, but engaged in the work of helping England in the Conquest of a Continent.

"We have a city to some of whose homes Washington delighted to come and speak of great issues. Let us be certain in making our interests world-wide in their interests we shall give the lustre of the past to our City. Let the past be the prophecy of the future."

Basketball Tonight

A great game is assured tonight at the Armory when the Boat Club team will take on the Manhattan A. C. of Washington. The Manhattans' have a great record, and claim they will take the measure of the local team. The Boat Club team is ready to do battle with the boys from across the Potomac, and they expect to add another to their string of victories. The line-up of the Boat Club team will probably be as follows: Forwards—Beeton and Crilly; Center—Crouch or Davis; Guards—Roberts and Shuman.

Escape Jury Service

Citizen Adopts Novel Scheme to be Relieved of Serving

He was a busy man and had been summoned for jury services in the United States Court here. He was so busy that he did not want to do jury service. He knew that it would be almost impossible to escape service as jurors were scarce. Arriving in court he found out that a damage case was to be heard. One of the litigants was represented by a city lawyer whom the prospective court knew very well and the attorney on the other side was from a neighboring county. Quickly the prospective juror decided upon a novel plan of action to escape service which he thought would result in his being relieved of service.

There was a lull in the court pending the calling of the case and every body appeared busy except the attorneys. Accordingly the Alexandrian who was supposed to serve on the jury entered into an animated conversation with a local attorney who represented one side. This naturally attracted the attention of the out of town attorney, who lost no time in making inquiry as to the identity of the would be juror so friendly to the counsel on the other side. Well it goes without saying that when it came to striking off the required number of jurors by each side, the attorney from out the city had him relieved and he was the first one to leave the court when the panel was completed.

MILITARY CONSCRIPTION

In the House of Representatives yesterday, when Mr. Sheffey offered his amendment to the Military Bill in the course of the remarks which he submitted in support of it, he made some allusion to a whisper which he had heard of a project having been agitated to fill the ranks of the army by means of that detestable system, French Conscription, of which he expressed his abhorrence. Mr. Troup, chairman of the Military Committee, in reply, stated he had expressed himself in favor of such a project—it might not, at present, be necessary, but when the circumstances of the country required it, he for one would advocate it in the committee and in the House. Are the citizens of this country prepared to submit to such a system?

SPORTS

The Triangle Jrs. played the Silver Stars, Wednesday night, a new quint, of this city. The Triangle Jrs. were beaten by the score of 33 to 29. The game was well played, and the Triangles showed the best passing, but th Triangle forwards were outweighed. The Triangle quint were composed of Lawler, Howard, Edwards, Pettit and Foard. Lawler, Edwards and Pettit played a good game for the T. S. C. Jrs.

Tonight the T. S. C. First Team will journey to Washington, D. C., to play the fast Gonzaga Midgets. This game is expected to be a fast one, as both teams are in good condition. All players will meet at 7 o'clock tonight, and a large crowd of rooters will accompany them.

Those Cement Roads

It's great to think of more good roads to run throughout our land, so jump around the larger toads and try to raise the sand. It matters not about the bonds when the wealth comes rolling in, so try and look above beyond procrastinating sin. The autos then will farther run on much less gasoline and busy folk will find more time to enjoy the sylvan scene.

The Romance of Historic Alexandria

After many unavoidable delays, "The Romance of Historic Alexandria" is on sale at Knight's. This little book was the subject of an editorial in the Gazette some weeks ago, and has been prepared under the auspices of the Civic Bureau of the Chamber of Commerce. Commendatory notices have been given by a number of educators. Dr. E. B. Jackson, with the information gained from many sources, is the author of the little volume.

Postal Progress

Colonel E. H. Shoughessey Second Assistant Postmaster General, directed the awarding of the contract today for what promises to be one of the most distinctive and progressive steps ever taken in the history of post office affairs in this or any other country for the rapid handling of bulk and parcel post mails.

The Chicago Union Station Company, of Chicago, are at the present time erecting for the Post Office Department an eight story building, located between Van Buren and Harrison Sts., Chicago, paralleling the River Bank, in what will be the new Union Station terminal, having a floor capacity of approximately 500,000 square feet. The award that was approved today is for the equipment to be placed in this building for the handling of mails and is going to cost approximately $500,000.

The building throughout will be equipped with the very latest development in belt conveying equipment some idea of the magnitude of the work being gained from the statement that it will require seven miles of belting alone for the conveying machinery. The building is of the latest, fire proof design, of steel and concrete construction and furnished throughout with factory type steel sash to provide the maximum natural light and ventilation. All of the floors of the working areas will be of wood block, fully equipped with automatic telephone call system, high speed micro-leveling elevators, cafeteria, restroom, dispensary, etc.

The contract calls for the completion June first, after which time it is intended to divert about 1300 tons of mails daily into the new terminal. The building is designed to handle many times this amount of mail, in fact it ought to take care of the increase in the parcel post mails for the next ten years to come, without any difficulty.

This new facility will require in the beginning 27 supervisory officials and 1052 employees. The platform space will accomodate 61 motor trucks at one time.

The sub-basement of the building will contain railroad tracks so that the mails can be handled direct from the distributing rooms to the mail cars for dispatch.

A noticeable improvement in connection with the new terminal is plans that have been arranged with the large mail order houses in Chicago so that their parcel post packages will be loaded in a new type self dumping truck, which can be loaded at the plant of the mailer directly into the motor trucks and rolled off to the new terminal post office and dumped onto the conveying belts without intermediate handling.

American Jewish Relief

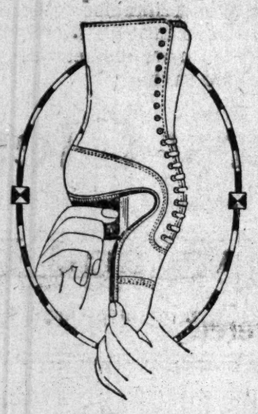
Herbert Hoover, head of the American Relief Administration, has received the hearty endorsement of the American Jewish Relief Committee and high recommendation for his work in aiding the victims of "the wars after the War."

In a letter signed by Julius Rosenwauld, of Chicago, M. E. Greenbaum, Charles Rubens General Abel Davis and James H. Becker, representing the American Jewish Relief Committee, Mr. Hoover is informed of the commendatory resolutions passed at a recent conference in Chicago in which prominent Jews representing 37 states participated and voted to raise $14,000,000 for the further relief of their co-religionists in Europe.

"We, whose interest in the victims of the war is keen, who ourselves are doing what lies in our power for their relief, have the greatest regard for your work, your fairness your achievement. It gratified us that at the conference of the American Jewish Relief Committee held in Chicago, the request was made by our fellow workers that an expression of appreciation be sent you," said the letter.

The centipede is active and ferocious. It has many joints and each joint has a pair of legs. It is venomous.

Janus, the two-faced Roman deity, was doorkeeper of heaven, who looked both into the past and the future and was regarded as the god who busied himself with the beginnings of all enterprises.



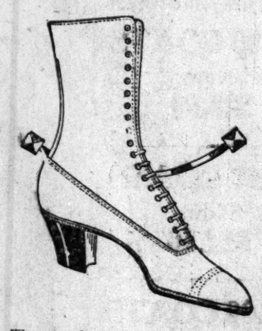
Which Women Do The Men Admire?

Out of a great mass of writings on the subject, we are led to believe that women dress for the men. (We do not venture this as our own opinion).

Do men admire the "Fluffy Ruffles" type of woman, the Dresden China Doll, the fragile creature walking on fragile heels? Or do they admire the girl whose color comes from nature, who walks with natural grace, whose clothes bespeak intelligent refinement—women who smile like good pals?

There is a time and a place for the high heel and the pointed toe—at dances and other dressy functions. But the vast majority of worth-while men do admire the woman who goes to business, who does her shopping, who takes her afternoon stroll in good looking, sensible Cantilever Shoes.

Ask any husband which type of shoes he admires on his wife's foot—the high heel and sharp toe, or the medium heel and the moderate toe. Nine out of ten men prefer to see the woman they admire wearing healthful and helpful shoes.



The comfort that a woman enjoys when she is correctly shod in Cantilever Shoes adds enormously to the pleasantness of her disposition. Her health and her appearance are improved. She becomes a good pal; and men become her good friends. Let us show you the Cantilever Shoe and explain why its flexible arch, natural shape, toe-room, proper heels produce such comfort for the foot, such peace of mind and such admirable qualities in the women who wear Cantilevers!

MONTHS OF SUFFERING

How a Baltimore Girl Recovered Her Health

Baltimore, Maryland.—"For several months I suffered with severe backache and general weakness. I could not sleep comfortably at night for pains in my back. I found your book at home one day and after reading it began at once to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I have had very good results and some of my girl friends are taking it now. You may use this letter to help other girls, as the letters in your book helped me."—ROSE WAIDNER, 3018 Roseland Place, Baltimore, Md.

That is the thought so often expressed in letters recommending Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. These women know what they have suffered, they describe their symptoms and state how they were finally made well. Just plain statements, but they want other women to be helped.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is a medicine made from medicinal roots and herbs, and without drugs, to relieve the sickness women so often have, which is indicated by backache, weak feelings, nervousness, and no ambition to get anything done or to go anywhere. It has helped many women. Why not try it?

INCOME TAX DATA

Provisions of Revenue Act of 1921 Explained by Collector Noel

The following statement is issued by Collector of Internal Revenue, J. C. Noel, in the District of Virginia.

The Revenue Act of 1921 contains two new and important provisions, which are the subject of frequent inquiry. The first relates to the personal exemptions allowed married persons, and the second to the provision requiring that a return be made of gross income of $5,000 or more.

The Act provides that a married person living with husband or wife, whose net income for 1921 was $5,000 or less shall be allowed a personal exemption of $2,500. If the net income of such person was over $5,000, the exemption is $2,000. Under the Revenue Act of 1918 the personal exemption allowed a married person was $2,000 regardless of the amount of net income. The normal tax rate remains unchanged, 4 per cent on the first $4,000 of net income above the exemptions and 8 per cent on the remaining net income.

In order that an income slightly in excess of $5,000 shall not be subjected to an inordinately disproportionate tax because of the reduction of the exemption to $2,000 thereon, the law provides that such reduction shall not operate to increase the tax which would be payable if the exemption were $2,500, by more than the amount of the net income in excess of $5,000.

For example, on a net income of $5,010, the tax without this saving clause, would be $120.40, which is 4 per cent on $3,010 the amount of net income less an exemption of $2,000. The actual tax is $110.40, computed as follows: from the net income of $5,010, is deducted $2,500, leaving $2,510 the 4 per cent tax on which amounts to $100.40. To this is added $10, "the amount of net income in excess of $5,000."

The personal exemptions allowed married persons, apply also to the head of a family, a person who supports in one household one or more relatives by blood, marriage or adoption.

Heretofore, a person whose net income was less than his exemption ($1,000 if single(or $2,000 if married) was not reqiured to file a return. Under the Revenue Act of 1921, if the gross income of an individual equalled or exceeded $5,000, or if the combined gross income of a married couple and that of dependent minor children equalled or exceeded $5 000 a return must be filed regardless of the amount of net income.

"Net income" is gross income, less certain deductions. The fact that allowable deductions from gross income, for business expenses, losses, bad debt, etc., may reduce the net income to an amount below the personal exemptions of $1,000 or $2 000 does not alter the requirements to file a return of gross income, if such gross income equalled or exceeded $5,000.

How to Make Child-birth Easier!

DO YOU wish to know how thousands and thousands of women have gone thru motherhood without knowing some of the pains and discomforts incident to childbirth? Listen to this:

Motherhood creates almost a new state of being for a woman.

As a result, new nerves, those heretofore restful and quiescent, spring into activity, they cry out, they tingle, they burn in their unrest.

The network of nerves across the abdomen, the loins, the back and other parts now become super-sensitive. All these nerves are being called on to perform unusual duties.

These nerves must be pacified and comforted; must be put in condition for the crisis that is pending.

If these nerves are not soothed and quieted, they may set up aggravated nerve tension, increasing in severity from month to month, sometimes even culminating in a nervous paralysis of the back and limbs. This leaves the mother-to-be in a condition where she is unable, fully, to meet the test when the climax of maternity arrives.

Mother's Friend is used externally as a massage; and its purpose, thru daily use, is to gradually, gently and effectively relax the muscles and nerves involved in the function of child-bearing; to make the skin soft, pliable and elastic so that it may expand easily and naturally as the abdominal parts enlarge—thereby relieving the tension and strain on these muscles and nerves of the otherwise severe distension before delivery.

Mrs. C. J. Hartman, 515 Palm St., Scranton, Pa., says:

"I am willing and anxious to tell any mother about Mother's Friend. It did me so much good that I wouldn't be without it if it cost $5.00 a bottle. With my first two children I had a doctor and a nurse and they had to use instruments, but with my last two children I only had a nurse, we had no time to get a doctor because I wasn't very sick—only about ten or fifteen minutes."

Many doctors and nurses recommend Mother's Friend. It contains no narcotics or habit-forming drugs and is perfectly harmless. All drug stores carry Mother's Friend.

WARNING: Avoid using plain oils, greases and substitutes—they act only on the skin and may cause harm without doing good.

The Time To Take Pepto-Mangan

When You Feel a Little "Off" It Will Bring You Back to Health

Some people never need any medicine at all. They are, as the saying goes, "strong as a bull." They are mighty lucky. Most people need a good tonic once in a while. They take cold, or through overwork or social activity do not get enough sleep; many eat improper food and thus hurt the digestion. It is mighty wise to take Gude's Pepto-Mangan with the meals for a few weeks and build up. One cannot have too much good health. Pepto-Mangan gives you plenty of red blood, and everybody knows that red blood means feeling good and looking good all the time. Sold by druggists in liquid and tablet form. Advertisement.
